Vegan Cookie Dough Coming To Canada

Canadian brokerage partners with a #1 U.S. vegan cookie dough brand

Vancouver, British Columbia – Lloyd-James Plant-Based Sales & Marketing is excited to announce that they are representing Eat Pastry, the number one U.S. vegan cookie dough. Eat Pastry’s popularity has been catching on like wildfire with high demands from all over Canada thanks to their delicious, plant-based recipe. It is currently nationally distributed in the United States and now available in some locations in Canada, with expansion to many retailers in the coming weeks.

About Eat Pastry

Organic, non-GMO, vegan cookie dough tastes just as good as the stuff we grew up with. Eat Pastry offers delicious, ready to bake alternatives for health conscious or allergen sensitive customers, including those with gluten sensitivities. Eat Pastry cares about providing flavourful, healthy alternatives made from high quality ingredients. After all, who doesn’t want cookie dough that’s safe to eat raw or freshly baked cookies right out of the oven?
